Story 3 - God's promises

*A true story
from the Bible:*

Genesis 15: 1-7

*This story is about:
Believing God's promises.*

Abram was sad because he had no children. He wanted a little boy, so he asked God to give him a son. God told Abram to go outside his tent, look up into the night sky, and count all the stars. But Abram could not count the stars. There were far too many!

Then God promised Abram a son. But that was not all! In the years to come, his family would become as many as the stars in the sky. Abram believed what God was telling him. He knew His promise would not fail. God changed Abram's name to Abraham which means 'father of many'. He also changed Sarai's name to Sarah.

What was Abram's new name?
