

Study 1. The God of Judgment and Salvation

READ: Genesis 6: 5-22

SALVATION

God took responsibility for the safety of Noah and ultimately for the survival of the human race. He gave him precise instructions for the building of the ark, and when it was completed He saw Noah, his family and all the animals safely inside and then shut them in. (7: 16) The ark was secure and those inside could depend upon God's protection and provision.

The Flood is no Babylonian myth or symbol of destruction from ancient literature. Neither is it a half-remembered, half-imagined, prehistoric tragedy. There was a day - the exact date is given in Genesis 7: 11 - when deluges of water from above and beneath unleashed their devastating power upon a corrupted earth and all its inhabitants. Noah's eyes may never have seen the chaos and destruction, his ears may never have heard the cries of those who had ignored his warnings as "the ark moved about on the surface of the waters". Noah, his family and all the animals were safely inside. They trusted the One Who had shown them the way of protection and deliverance and when the flood eventually subsided, the family emerged into a world made clean, for a little while, from its wickedness and godlessness. (8: 15-19)

FAITH

Noah's deliverance from the global catastrophe was not merely because God valued his spiritual character and his companionship (6: 9); it was because Noah listened to God, paid attention to His warning and did exactly what he was told. (Hebrews 11: 7) This means that Noah was a man of faith, who believed God's Word and was willing to obey it, even in the face of ridicule and condemnation. (2 Peter 2: 5, 9 & 10) Faith in God, and obedience to His Word require courage and perseverance and are not easy to practise in today's world which so often devalues these qualities. But God still guarantees the eternal salvation of those who, like Noah, put their trust in His provision - the Saviour, our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom Noah's ark is a 'picture'. "Whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." (John 3: 16)

KEY VERSE: 2 Peter 2: 9

"The Lord knows how to deliver the godly out of temptations and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished."

'Saviour', 'Deliverer' and 'Redeemer' are titles which describe God as the One Who is able to save. During times of crisis in Old Testament history, the Israelites often asked Him for help and deliverance. (See Exodus 2: 23 & 24) However, there were special occasions when only God understood the seriousness of the situation. When people were oblivious, or even careless of the danger, God would take the initiative and bring deliverance in His own distinctive way.

JUDGMENT

Although everything in creation had been described by God as "very good", (Genesis 1: 31) within a matter of centuries it was spoiled. Adam and Eve were no longer in control of nature and because they had sinned by disobeying God's Word, their special relationship with the Lord was broken. (Genesis 3: 17 & 23) Gradually, yet inevitably, the effects of their sin spread. Jealousy, greed and pride marked the human race; violence and immorality increased and God looked down from Heaven and saw that "the wickedness of man was great in the earth". (6: 5) Depraved and ruthless, mankind had become a reservoir of evil and because God is righteous, He knew He would have to destroy them. Although He was deeply grieved by their sin; destruction was never God's plan for His world, so He gave ample opportunity for men to turn away from their sins and be delivered from His judgment. (1 Peter 3: 20)

The extent of the judgment was known only by the Lord, but He made it known to one man, who "walked with God". (Genesis 6: 9) His life was pleasing to God, and God promised to preserve him from the imminent judgment. His name was Noah.

Study 4. The Restorer of Creation

READ: Romans 8: 18-25

KEY VERSE: Romans 8: 21
“Creation itself also will be delivered from the bondage of corruption.”

Thanks to the wonders of modern communication systems, we can know, almost immediately, what is happening anywhere in the world. Within hours, or even minutes, we may hear about earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, floods and disasters of all kinds! The pain and suffering of the world are no longer hidden from those of us who enjoy peace and plenty. At times, we may wonder, ‘Is the world going to continue forever in its present state of sadness and suffering?’ Let us think about the Bible’s perspective on these things!

CREATION: An Inheritance of Suffering

In the Bible Reading, Paul graphically describes the plight of creation. “We know that the whole creation groans and labours with birth pangs together until now.” (v. 22) This state of affairs is not through any fault of its own, even though its imperfections cause much havoc in the lives of its inhabitants. Creation’s flaws and weaknesses were brought about by the Fall of man. (Genesis 3: 17-19) The ground was cursed with thorns and thistles, climate became unstable, and the nature of many animals became aggressive. The delicate balance of creation was spoiled by Adam’s disobedience. When man sinned, the whole of creation suffered, for God had appointed man to be the head of creation. (Genesis 1: 28)

CREATION: A Present Hope

Pain, illness and the frailty of old age are the common experiences of the human race, whatever our colour or nationality. But Christians are confident that a wonderful change is coming! “We also eagerly wait for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ, who will transform our lowly body that it may be conformed to His glorious body . . .” (Philippians 3: 20 & 21) This hope sustains Christians at all times, and especially when we are most conscious of our mortality. Perhaps we are mourning the death of a friend or relative, passing through a time of illness or injury, or caring for the needs of the sick and elderly. In such circumstances, we can be sure that the day will come when the effects of sin on our bodies, souls and spirits will be no more, and God Himself will wipe every tear away from our eyes. (See Revelation 21: 4)

CREATION: A Future Glory

The Bible teaches us that every part of God’s wonderful creation shares this hope. The Key Verse speaks about being “delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God”. In Isaiah 11, such a world is portrayed, “The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb . . . and a little child shall lead them. The cow and the bear shall graze; their young ones shall lie down together”. In that day (and only God knows when it will be), the knowledge of God will fill the earth, and His Son, Jesus, will reign over all the world for a thousand years. (See Revelation 20: 4) At the end of this millennium (a one thousand year period) of peace and harmony, Satan, the one who has brought pain, suffering and death into our world, will be assigned to eternal punishment, along with all those who had opposed God. The old, spoiled creation will disappear, and God will create a new heaven and a new earth in which will be no death, mourning, crying or pain. “Behold, I make all things new,” says God in Revelation 21: 5. Nothing less could ever satisfy God!

In the Bible Reading, Paul speaks of “the earnest expectation of the creation” as it eagerly awaits the day of its release. This will take place when the Lord Jesus comes again in power and glory. When that happens, creation which was ruined through Adam’s sin and through his descendants’ greed and neglect, will be restored. Until that great day comes, we must remember that man was entrusted with the care of God’s creation. “The Lord God took the man and put him in the garden of Eden to tend and keep it.” (Genesis 2: 15) Each new generation receives creation as a gift from God - a very special gift, to be cared for as well as enjoyed! As Christians we firmly believe that “the coming of the Lord is at hand”! (James 5: 8)

Study 2. The Redeemer of His People

READ: Exodus 3: 1-12

KEY VERSE: Exodus 6: 6

"I will redeem you with an outstretched arm and with great judgments."

The idea of redemption first appears in the book of Exodus. The verb 'to redeem' means to pay a ransom, a named price, in order that a slave may have his freedom. 'Exodus' itself means 'the going out' and this book tells of the events which led to more than a million people leaving a land which had become for them a prison of misery and slavery.

"I will make of you a great nation." (Genesis 46: 3)

It was during a time of severe famine that Jacob and his family (seventy people in all) left their homeland and went to live in Egypt. Jacob had known God's care and guidance during his lifetime, and he was sure that it was God's will for them to leave Canaan. (Genesis 46: 2-7) Four hundred years later, their descendants had grown into a people, the Israelites, and the Egyptians began to get worried about their increasing strength and military threat. The rulers of Egypt tried to solve the problem by making them slaves, treating them with great cruelty, and even destroying their male children at birth. But God was watching over them and He chose one of their own number, Moses, to deliver them from slavery and lead them out of the land of Egypt. God had made a solemn promise, many years before, to Abraham (Jacob's grandfather) that his descendants would have their own land. (Genesis 17: 8) Four hundred years had elapsed and it seemed that He had forgotten His promise, but God always keeps His promises, and when the time was exactly right, He spoke to Moses, "I will send you to Pharaoh that you may bring My people, the children of Israel, out of Egypt". (Exodus 3: 10)

"I will certainly be with you." (Exodus 3: 12)

God told Moses that He had seen the misery of His people. He had heard their cry and He was concerned about their suffering. He had come down to deliver them. (See vs. 7 & 8) God was totally involved with the Israelites. He loved them, watched over them and would become their Saviour, their Redeemer. (Deuteronomy 7: 7-9) God Himself would initiate and fulfil their deliverance, just as He had done for Noah in the time of the flood.

"I will stretch out My hand and strike Egypt." (Exodus 3: 20)

Pharaoh, king of Egypt, had no respect for the God of the Israelites and he refused outright when Moses requested that the people should leave Egypt, and go back to their own country. It took the effects of ten terrible plagues from God to break down the hardness of Pharaoh's heart. (Chapters 7 - 12) The final judgment was the death of the firstborn of every family in Egypt. The Israelites were commanded by Moses to kill a lamb for each household and put its blood on the lintel and door-posts of their houses. "When I see the blood, I will pass over you" was the promise which God gave them. This was the price of their redemption. Death would not enter the home where God's Word was believed and obeyed.

(See Exodus 12: 21-23)

"I will bring you into the land which I swore to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob."

(Exodus 6: 8)

Passover night marked the Israelites' deliverance out of Egypt and the beginning of their journey to the Promised Land. In addition to putting the blood of the lamb upon their doors, they were to eat its roasted flesh, for they would need nourishment for the long journey ahead. They were also to be ready to leave as soon as the order was given. "You shall eat it with a belt on your waist, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand."

(Exodus 12: 11)

Our Christian life is like a journey; as we continue on our way, we are strengthened by remembering the great price God paid for our redemption, by the death of His Son on the cross. For the Jews, the Passover became an annual feast, or festival, during which they look back to recall their great deliverance. Without the Passover, they would lose all appreciation of what the Lord had done for them. Similarly, we must remember what the Lord Jesus did for us in His sacrifice at Calvary. We owe our eternal salvation to Him. Let us ensure that we never turn aside from following Him.

Study 3. The Saviour of the World

This study sheet belongs to:

READ: Matthew 1: 18-25

KEY VERSE: 1 John 4: 14

“... the Father has sent the Son as Saviour of the world.”

The previous Studies have shown God's power to save, whether from a global disaster (as in the case of Noah), or out of slavery (as in the case of the Israelites leaving Egypt). God saves because He is a God of love, and He has no desire to see any part of His creation suffer in His necessary and righteous judgments upon sin.

A GREATER PLAN

The Old Testament tells us of many ways in which people experienced the mercy and power of God, when they cried out to Him for help. God, however, had in His mind something greater than short term and local deliverances from such things as war, flood and drought. God knew that the world was in need of much more than a temporary rescue from its current problems. What was needed was a spiritual salvation, for the whole race had wandered away from its Creator and had come under the controlling power of God's great enemy - Satan. God's greater plan was to provide a Saviour for the whole world!

The Bible reveals the amazing fact that God had formulated this plan “before the foundation of the world”. (See 1 Peter 1: 18-20) Only a loving, all-knowing and all-wise God could do such a thing! Even before sin spoiled everything, God had His plan in readiness!

A GREATER PERSON

The Old Testament records the deeds of great deliverers, such as Moses, Gideon, Samson, and many others. But to put into effect His plan for the salvation of the whole world, He sent “His only begotten Son”. (John 3: 16) His earthly name is Jesus (which means ‘Saviour’), but we must never forget that He is the Son of God, who came from the Father to provide salvation for all, as the Key Verse tells us. His coming to earth as the Baby born at Bethlehem, took place just at the time God had appointed. (Read Galatians 4: 4)

A GREATER PRICE

We saw, in the last Study, that if the Israelites were to escape from God's judgment upon Egypt and gain their freedom, a lamb had to be killed and its blood put upon the door-posts and the lintel. God promised that when He saw the blood, He would pass over their houses. (Exodus 12: 13) The price of freedom was the death of a lamb!

For us, a greater price has been paid by the death of the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ, at Calvary. He is “the Lamb of God”, as John the Baptist called Him. (John 1: 29) His death is unique in that He died “for our sins”. (1 Corinthians 15: 3) So great was His love for us that He “gave Himself for our sins”. (Galatians 1: 4) Peter writes about the fact that the price of our redemption is “the precious blood of Christ”. (1 Peter 1: 19)

A GREATER POWER

Throughout Old Testament times, God's deliverances were displays of His power. For example, He made a pathway through the Red Sea, thus allowing the Israelites to escape from the pursuing Egyptians. For us, however, a greater victory has been achieved! When the Lord Jesus paid the 'greater price' at Calvary, He defeated Satan. Hebrews 2: 14 & 15 explains that He destroyed him who had the power of death, that is, the devil, and released those who were subject to bondage. The benefits of His great victory become ours personally when we repent of our sins and commit ourselves to Him in total trust.

A GREATER PURPOSE

Deliverance from sin and Satan is only the beginning. All who believe in the Lord Jesus are adopted into God's family, becoming God's children and receiving His Holy Spirit. It is the Holy Spirit who enables us to live as God's children ought to live. Instead of going our own ways and doing our own will, we are helped to reflect the ways and the will of God. God's purpose is that His children should walk “as children of light . . . proving what is acceptable to the Lord”. (Ephesians 5: 8-10) Is His purpose being fulfilled in your life? Can you truthfully speak of God as “My Saviour”? (Luke 1: 47)
